All those enumerated in the order to the procession who may be willing to attend, and who will be found included between the ex-Presidents of the United States and officers of the army and navy, will be formed on Sixte-nth-aud-s-half street, west of the President' Square, under the direction of the following deputy marshals, the right on Pennsylvania avenue. General Lawrence, Colonel William H. Philip, Major S. R. Harriegton, Charles Worthington, Mr. Chitton, Edward Pendleton, Major Richard Middleton, Colonel Frank Jones, Major George Hill, Dr. J. Mercer, George N. Hicks, F. C. Adams, James C. Griswold, P. H. Donegan, Captain T. A. Stone, Major H. A. Hall, M. R. Shankland. IV. The Officers of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps not attached to other organizaions, and the clergy, will form on Seventeenth street, east side, south of Pennsylvania avenue, the right on Pennsylvania avenue, under the direction of the following deputy marshals: General J. M. Corse, Major Caske, Major Augustus Nicholson, Colonel George Gibson, Colonel Henry Rathbone, Commander E. Simpson, Lieutenant Commander Manly, Lieutenant Commander G. H. Perkins, Captain C. P. street, east side, south of Pennsylvania avenue

V. It has been determined by the committee to place the fire organizations on the left, both to keep up the interest of all in the procession to the end, forming, as they must, one of the most attractive fea ures of the procession, and to render them available in case of fire. They will form on H street, right on Eighteenth street, massing on H, toward the right, leaving open the cross-streets north and south; it will be under the direction of the following deputy marshais: Chief Deputy, Dr. C. H. Nichols, E. J. Middleton, Riley A. Sulna, Emil S. Frederick, William Dickson, J. C. Clary, William O. Drew John H. Nicolay, Thomas C. Cox.

ington Turnveren, together with the organizations visiting them will form on Eighteenth street north of Pennsylvania avenue, right on the avenue, under Deputy Marshals John Abendrotb. J. S. McKinney, John D. Patten Captain W. W. Winship, and Colonel Aaron Baldwin. At 10 A. M., March 4, the deputy marshais will be expected to report to the grand marshal at his office, 156 Pennsylvania avenue. Mrs. Boyle's confectionery store, that their organizations are in position.

A single gun from Dupont's battery, under orders from Colonel Wallace, will announce to all that the President and President elect are ready to move to the Capitol The chief deputy marshal of each division must then inform himself of the progress of the organization preceding him: he will be responsible for that portion of the line under his general charge. The Capitol will be approached from the south side. The escort of United States troops, save the cavalry, will pass entirely around the square east of the Capitol, and will remain on A street north. The volunteer organizations will form east of the Capitol, and facing towards it. Divisions will file in line behind the organzations preceding them, and will face toward the Capitol. They will be held thus until breaking from the right to march to the left. After the escort, they will follow the President of the United States to the Executive All carriages in the line will pass along the east front of the Capitol, and will be taken charge of by some one appointed by the committee for this purpose.

Colonel Wallace has been notified that a Presidential salute of twenty-one guns is to be fired as soon as the President shall have taken the oath of office. It will be noticed that by this arrangement the President of the United States will, on his return to the Executive Massion, pass along the front of those who had the honor to escort him to the Capitol. By this means all will see him. When the escort shall have saluted the President at the Executive Mansion, deputy marshals may dismiss their organizations; but it is here stated that it is desirable that they file past the Presidential Mausion before they are dismissed.

Organizations reporting after this will be di-rected to report to the chief deputy marshals of divisions for assignment.

The grand marshal will wear his uniform of major general, with committee badge and sash as field officer of the day.

Aids to grand marshal—uniform, if entitled to it, blue baldric, trimmed with silver; saddlecloth white, trimmed with bine. Those not ntitled to uniform, plain black.

Deputy maishals—uniform, if they are entitled to it, red baldrie, trimmed with silver; saddle-cloth white trimmed with red; baton red. gilt acorn ends, and red ribbon. Those not entitled to uniform, plain black.

Assistant marshals unsupplied will find regalia at Topham's, Seventh street, and Mrs. Lowe's, Pennsylvania avenue, between Ninth and Tenth streets. In the divisions in the procession chief dep-uty marshals will head their divisions, and assign places on the flanks to all those assist-

MR McPHERSON'S CHANCES of being reelected Clerk of the House are considered very nearly assured. From ninety-five to one hundred members are pledged to him, and it is not known that any outside of the Ohio delegation are pledged to Mr. Eckley.

THE HOUSE NON-CONCURRED in the Senate amendment to the bill strengthening the public credit, (Schenck's,) and a Conference Committee was appointed by the two Houses, consisting of Messrs. Sherman. Williams and Morton of the Senate, and Messrs. Schenck, Allison and Niblack of the House.

THE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE on the diplomatic appropriation bill have agreed upon a report, the House receding from the Butler amendment consolidating the South and Central American missions. This will leave the missions as at present represented with minister resident.

THE CLASS of 1850 of Bowdoin College have commissioned an artist to paint for them a portrait of their classmate, Major General O. O. Howard, Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau. The picture is destined for the Bowdoin Memorial Hall, when completed, and will probably be the first picture donated to the new hall. The artist selected is Mr. William Willard.

Mies LAURA KEENE and her New York company made a great bit at Wall's Opera House last evening in their first performance of Boucicault's fine drama, "Hunted Down," which was well mounted, and acted in capital style. The audience was one of the largest and most fashionable ever assembled at the opera house, and Miss Keene, as "Mary Leigh," was called before the curtain at the end of every act. The play will be repeated this

GENERAL GRANT'S HEADQUARTERS .- There was quite a large crowd of visitors at General Grant's headquarters this morning, between ten and twelve o'clock, a large majority of whom were strangers in the city, and called merely to pay their respects to the President elect. Lieut, General Sherman was in the office all of the forenoon, making himself acquainted with its duties. General J. G. Reynolds, with a delegation from Texas, consisting of ex-Governor A. J. Hamilton, Col. Haynes, Dr. Lane, Messrs. Buffington, Armstrong and others, had an interview with the General about eleven o'clock. Governor Hamilton, on behalf of the delegation, stated that they had called to tender their congratulations, and express their faith in his administration. General Grant, in reply, assured them of the pleasure he felt at being thus sustained by the people of every section, and said he would do all in his power to have the laws faithfully executed, so that peace and happiness should reign throughout the land. After a pleasant conversation of ten or fifteen minutes the delegation withdrew. An Alabama delegation, headed by Senator Warner, called at an early hour and had a very friendly inter-acceptance of the Presidency. Hon. William McKennon, of Pennsylvania called this morning about 11 o'clock, and had a very friendly interview with the General; but nothing whatever was said in regard to ap. pointments. Mr. McKennon, who is one of the ablest lawyers in Western Pennsylvania, and is in Washington merely to see the inauguration. He arrived here on Saturday, but did not get in General Grant's carriage at the depot and repair to the residence of the General on I street. On the contrary, he took a public carriage at the depot and was driven to the residence of G. V. Lawrence, Esq , and on Sunday afternoon he visited General Grant at his residence, in company with his son-in-law, Col. Smith, who is a cousin to Mrs. Grant. Among the other visitors to-day were Senator Dool ittle, Hoa. Galusha A. General J. C. Veitch and others.

A PROMINENT politician and General. after a protracted interview with General Grant, yesterday afternoon, stated to a friend that, while he could not give any information as to who would form General Grant's Cabinet, yet of three things he felt satisfied, and they were that neither Obio, the Pacific coast, nor any of the Southern States would be represented.

GEORGE T. BROWN, Esq. ,Sergeant-at- 1rms of the Senate, is busily engaged in perfecting all arrangements for the Inauguration, and everything will be in readiness by the morning of the 4th. The entire force of Metropolitan Police, the Capitol Police and 4th regiment of infantry will be at the disposal of Mr. Brown to preserve order and keep off the crowd. The space in front of the Capitol will be kept clear, and no person admitted therein until after the arrival of the procession.

THE HOUSE COMMITTEE on the treatment of Union prisoners, of which Gen. Pile of Mo. is chairman, will probably make their report to the House this evening. The Committee has been at work for the past year, and have taken a large amount of testimony. The report states that the cruel treatment to Union prisoners by the rebels were not incidental to the war, but the rebels were not incidental to the war, but the deliberate intention at the rebel authorities. Over three hundred pages of testimony relates to the matter of exchanging prisoners, and the Committee think it is satisfactory shows that the reasons exchanges were not made was on account of the rebel au horities, who desired to cripple our armies by holding prisoners and starving them out. A tabular statement accompanies the report, which has been carefully prepared from the records of the War Department, showing the number of prisoners on each side at various times, the relative strength of each army, and other matters of valuable information.

IN THE U. S. SUPREME COURT yesterday in the case of Chas. Hart Smith, appeliant, vs. the Washington Gaslight Company-appeal from Supreme Court of the District of Columbia-Mr. Chief Justice Chase delivered the opinion of the court, affirming the decree of the said Supreme Court with costs. The Chief Justice appounced that the court would not hear any arguments this week after Wednes.

---FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The New York money market was very easy yesterday at 5 to 6 per cent on call, until just before the close of bank hours. when the demand suddenly became more active and there was quite a little flurry, resulting in an advance to 7 per cent. This unexpected change in the aspect of the money market was partly artificial, and was started by some parties on the bear side, although the great ease of the morning endoubtedly induced many borrow-ers to delay making their loans up until a laisr bour than usual. Prime business paper is quoted at 7 to 9 per cent.

FORTLETH CONGRESS. This Afternoon's Proceedings.

TUBSDAY, March 2. SENATE.-Mr. Nye stated that he had received a letter from Mr. Asa Rogers, to the effect that he (Mr. N.) was in error in the remark made by him yesterday, that Rogers had been elected Auditor of Virginia. The name of the Audi tor was Taylor.

Mr. Su maer said he had two reports to make

Mr. Su mner said he had two reports to make in Executive session, and made a motion to enter therein, which was rejected, Mr. Sumner only voting in the affirmative.

Mr. Morton asked to take up the resolution for the pay of the Southern Senators, but Mr. Trumbull objected.

Columbia, made a report relative to the price of gas in the District, which was ordered to be printed. Mr. Morgan asked to take up the bill to prevent the secret sales of gold, which was very important, and upon which he thought there would be no debate.

Mr. Sherman said he should move to strike out the second section of the bill.

Mr. Morgan would have no objection.

Mr. Morrill, of Maine, however, objected. and the army appropriation bill was proceeded with, the question being on the amendment of Mr. Grimes, to the amendment of Mr. Sunner, providing for the payment of the Massachu-setts war claim of 1812.

Mr. Conking.—What is the amendment?
The Chair (rapping and showing not unnatural impatience.)—Let it be read again; it has been debated for three days. After some discussion, the army appropriation bill was laid over. The Chair announced as the committee of conference on the bill to strengthen the public credit, Messrs. Sherman, Williams, and Mor-

The legislative, executive, and judicial appropriation bill was then taken up.

The Committee on Appropriations reported various amendments, which were agreed to, the most important one being as follows:—In creasing in the office of the Comptroller of the Treasury the number of clerks of the fourth class from four to six, of the third class from class from four to six, of the third class from tour to eight, of the second class from five to

Mr. Trumbull thought it very remarkable be manifested towards giving women as much pay as men when they performed the same work. Air. Welch thought this opposition to justice melting away, and the day was not far off when all professions and walks of life would be thrown open on equal terms to all, without regard to sex or color. Mr. Pomeroy expressed his regret that the same pay was not given to females as males. Mr. Howe regretted it also, but it was unfortunately the fact. Female labor did not com-mand the same prices as male, and he did not know any remedy for it, unless the Senator from Kansas should bring in a bill to recon

Mr. Hendricks said when these temale clerkwere first put into the departments 1: was said that they would be content with $6.0 per annum, which was called a very handsome salary for them. Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, declared that he was not actuated by hostility to the interests of the female clerks in his opposition, but rather by considerations for their welfare. The tender ey of establishing this increase here would be to establish an aristocracy in this city which would be the envy of equally quaified but more plain ladies elsewhere. Mr Conkling thought as trustees of the money of the people it was the duty of the Senate not to vote it away for a mere sentiment Practically he denied that there was any truta in the assertion that clerical labor here, either male or female, was madequately rewarded. the proof of which was the salaries paid commanded the services of competent persons. After further discussion the clause was variously amended, so as finally to read as

Mr. Garfield (Ohio) asked the Speaker to state the condition of the public business.

The Speaker, in reply, said the House was now in advance of the Senate in regard to the appropriation bills. These bills were all disposed of in the House, except the Senate amendments to the Indian appropriation bill, and such amendments as the Senate might make to the appropriation bills before it. The next business of pressing importance was the bills on the Speaker's table, which had not been considered for a ong time. There was now about one hundred fifteen bills on the Speaker's table. Many of those were House bills with Senate amendments, most of them verbal.

Mr. Schenck (Ohio) thought it must be obvious to any one who considered the condition of the business that one whole nights session was absolutely necessary, and he thought it best that the session should be to-night, when members were yet fresh and when there was likely to be less contusion than on the last night of

THE REVOLUTION IN CUBA .- The Havana Diario reporte an engagement between troops and the insurgents at the town of Cifuentes, in which the troops were victorious. The same paper states that three hundred rebels have surrendered at Villa Clars. It seems that Gen. Lesca is advancing into the interior without much opposition. The rebels expected he would march by the Sierra de Cabitas, or take the road to Paredez, where they had erected en-trenchments, and were ready to oppose his progress; but Lecca unexpectedly took another route, and outwitted the rebel General Queseda. The Diario asserts that the revolutionary Gen-eral Napoleon Oringo has joined Count Valmaseds with two thousand men, abandoning the rebellion, and that Valmaseds, reinforced by a thousand men, has set out from Puerto Principe to meet General Lesca, when, with their combined forces, they will atta-

OUTRAGE AND SUMMARY PUNISHMENT IN TENNESSES.-The Nashville Banner has a special dispatch, stating that last Friday night militiaman of Colonel Gamble's command stationed near Pulaski, went to the cabin of a negro, pretending to have orders for his arrest, and sent him off. He then took a daughter of the negro, aged about thirteen, into the woods and ravished her. The father returned and found his daughter absent, and, with a party of friends, went in search of her. The militiaman was arrested and placed in charge of a colored guard, to be taken to beadquarters. He attempted to escape, and was shot and beaten with the butts of their muckets and left in a dying condition. Colonel Gamble, on investigating the affair, justified the negroes. Cabbage plants are selling in Norfolk, Va., for 75 cents per hundred. This is about the price asked in old times for cabbages. Soroisia Convention the Grand Tournament
